7. D. Disinflation is a decrease in inflation rates. Like a decline in the rate of increase in the general price level of goods and services in the gross domestic product (GDP) of a country over time, like in comparison to previous year. The central bank commonly uses disinflation to describe a period of slowing inflation. For example suppose prices increased 5 percent last year for a commodity, if it is 3 percent this year its disinflation. But it can't be in negative territory like deflation which shows slowing of growth. In Shrinkflation quantity or weight of the goods is reduced for the same price. For example parle biscuits you were getting for 5 rs last year but there were 10 biscuits in the pack , now this year price is same but you are getting 8 biscuits.
